COMPLETE LIBRARY

DESCRIPTION & METADATA SINGAPORE SOUNDSCAPE “DOWNTOWN”

Hi Guys,

This is the biggest single library that I released and this one is packed with sounds only recorded in and around Singapore's Downtown.

We spent one week at “The Sail” what is a condominium direct at Marina Blvd with a beautiful view down to the harbor and Marina Bay Sands.

You can expect a load of fantastic sound recordings including restaurant walla, people walking, traffic and construction sounds. Using elevators and escalators, recording room tone in our apartment, in a medical center and a public toilet. But not only this you can find footsteps recording and a soundscape from the famous Downtown Hawker Center and many many more.

If I miss something, don't worry we will be back in Singapore on December 14th celebrating NYE and then I make the overall “Singapore Gallery” even bigger.

Stay tuned and now feel free to explore all the new sounds and I really hope you find great use for them!

From the heart I wish you all the best,

Marcel

6. Room-tone In Empty Corridor between Link Mall & Raffles Place At Night

You can listen to the air-condition and one of the escalators in the background. Few people walking by and you can hear the footsteps. Several times a door opened and closed. One person coughed. It has a nice wide sound because of the walls and the empty space.

31. Singapore Downtown Street Traffic Anson Road Near Tanjong Pagar Centre

I left the construction zone and walked over to the MRT station and recorded this street traffic at Anson Road. The traffic is not heavy or busy. The streets are very wide open and everything sounds more chill, relaxed.

32. Tanjong Bagar Bus Station With Passing By Traffic

Time to record the sound from a bus station. I went to other site of Anson Road and waited for the bus on the bench. While waiting several vehicles passed by on this busy road. A bus stopped, open and closed the door and left. The engine sound of the bus is very powerful and you can listen how the machine accelerate. Several people sitting left and right but you cant really hear them.
